UNDE HARASSMENT POLICY

1. Statement of Commitment

The Union of National Defence Employees, a Component of the Public Service Alliance of Canada (PSAC), promotes a zero-tolerance policy with respect to harassment and discrimination. UNDE believes and promotes full equality of all its members and the right of each member to be treated with dignity and respect.

UNDE will neither tolerate nor condone attitudes and behaviours at union functions, regardless of intent, that are likely to undermine the dignity, self-esteem or security of an individual or create an intimidating, threatening, hostile or offensive environment.

The Component actively supports the Canadian Human Rights Act and associated programs that are designed to achieve equality within Canadian society as well as the PSAC Policies governing Harassment. This Policy does not prevent members from using those avenues but covers the guidelines the Component will follow for UNDE Harassment Complaints.

The UNDE Harassment Policy and the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints (Annex B) address harassment situations that include personal harassment, sexual harassment and abuse of authority at all UNDE functions, meetings or socials.

2. Definitions

(a) Bullying

Bullying is usually seen as acts or verbal comments that could 'mentally' hurt or isolate a member during UNDE functions. Bullying can involve negative physical contact as well. Bullying usually involves, but is not limited to, repeated incidents or a pattern of behaviour that is intended to intimidate, offend, degrade or humiliate a particular member or group of members. It has also been described as the assertion of power through aggression.

(b) Harassment

Harassment can include, but is not limited to, the following:

- objectionable conduct, comments or displays made once or repeatedly that demean, belittle, humiliate or embarrass another;
- an expression of perceived power and superiority over another person or group;
- offensive, unwelcome and unwarranted actions or attitudes undesired by a member;
- can be used for reasons of control or to obtain favours;
- action or behaviour that a person knew or ought to have known would be "unwelcome" or "unwanted";

Harassment can also be based on, but not limited to, the following:

- sex, race, creed, colour, ethnicity, age, sexual orientation, disability, family or marital status, conviction for an offence for which a pardon has been granted, appearance, social or economic class, political or religious affiliation or language of a member;

(c) Discrimination

Discrimination is recognized as interference, restriction, coercion, intimidation or any disciplinary action exercised or practiced with respect to a member by reason of age, race, creed, colour, national origin, marital or family status, disability, religious affiliation, conviction for an offence for which a pardon has been granted, appearance, sex, sexual orientation or membership or activity in the union.

Discrimination can also be any action that denies a member's right to be treated fairly. It is also a type of prejudice, attitude or a state of mind relating to a pre-conceived opinion held by one person or a group about another person or group, that tends to cast the member(s) in an inferior light.

(d) Sexual harassment

Sexual harassment can include, but is not limited to, the following:

- conduct, comment, gesture or physical contact of a sexual nature;
- can be a single occurrence or on a repeated basis;
- unwelcome remarks, jokes or taunts of a sexual nature about a person's body, mannerism, clothing or sex;
- gestures or practical jokes of a sexual nature that cause discomfort or embarrassment;
- display of offensive or pornographic pictures, graffiti or material of a sexual nature;
- leering (sexually suggestive staring);
- demands for sexual favours;
- unnecessary physical contact such as touching, patting or pinching.

(e) Abuse of authority

Abuse of authority is a form of harassment that occurs when a member or members improperly use their union power, authority or position against another member or other members. Abuse of authority may include, but is not limited to, the following:

- withholding information that a member or members require to perform their duties;
- favouritism of one member over another;
- yelling at a member or members in front of others;
- taking advantage of his/her union position to exploit, intimidate, threaten, blackmail, compromise, coerce or mistreat others.

(f) Initial Complaint

An initial complaint is a complaint for which no detailed record is kept and for which the member(s) chooses not to take further action.

(g) Informal Complaint

An informal complaint is a complaint for which no detailed record is kept and for which the member(s) chooses to take further action.

(h) Formal Complaint

A formal complaint is a complaint for which the member(s) chooses to complete the UNDE Harassment Complaint Form (Annex D).

(i) UNDE Conflict Resolution Policy

A process to allow members to resolve their issue(s) via mediation

(j) Complainant

A Complainant is a member who feels s/he has experienced harassment.

(k) Respondent

A Respondent is a member(s) against whom the allegation of harassment is made.

(l) Intervener

An Intervener is a member in good standing appointed by the Responsible Officer for all UNDE events. The Intervener is responsible to assist any member(s) through the harassment complaint procedure and shall be familiar with the UNDE Harassment Policy, the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints (Annex B).

(m) Responsible Officer

The Responsible Officer is the elected official responsible for the event and shall assist the Intervener during the informal investigation process. The Responsible officer shall be familiar with the UNDE Harassment Policy, the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints (Annex B).

(n) Reviewing Officer

Once an allegation is submitted in writing it moves to the formal investigation process. If a written complaint is made at a Local or Regional function, the Reviewing Officer is the Vice-President of the Region.

In the event a National Executive officer is identified as a Respondent; the National President shall be the Reviewing Officer.

For all national events, the Reviewing Officer shall be the National President.

In the event the National President is identified as a Respondent; the Executive Vice-President shall be the Reviewing Officer.

(o) Harassment Investigation Committee

The Harassment Investigation Committee should be made up of three members who have successfully completed the PSAC Internal Investigation Committee Training who have no personal connection to either the Complainant(s) or Respondent(s). Under special circumstances, the Harassment Investigation Committee can be comprised of Union members from outside the Local.

The committee is responsible to investigate any and all alleged harassment complaints made during a UNDE function, meeting or social and shall be familiar with the UNDE Harassment Policy, the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints (Annex B) and have completed the PSAC Internal Investigation Committee training.

3. Statement of Impact

Members can be impacted by harassment, both directly and indirectly, causing them to withdraw into silence and to cease active participation from all activities. All members are adversely affected by harassment when they witness it and are forced to continue operating in a tense, poisoned environment. Any unchallenged form of harassment leaves the wrong impression – that it is an acceptable human interaction – thus poisoning the environment that may cause the offensive behaviour and abusive patterns to continue and escalate.

4. Principles

- every member has a right to freedom from harassment within all union functions, meetings or socials and is responsible for contributing to a harassment-free union environment;
- every member has a responsibility to provide leadership by setting standards of behaviour that reflect UNDE's commitment to equality. Any member who witnesses harassment or discrimination has a responsibility to stop the behaviour or report it immediately;
- representatives involved in handling harassment at any level shall be trained and knowledgeable on the procedures contained within this policy and will deal with complaints in a professional manner as expeditiously as possible;
- confidentiality shall be respected throughout all alleged harassment incidents and investigations.

5. Application

This policy shall be applied during all UNDE functions, meetings and socials. UNDE and its membership will respect and adhere to this policy and the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints (Annex B).

All members shall have the right to contribute to any debates that will determine the direction the Component will take and shall do so in a respectful manner. To facilitate this, the following is a list of situations that this policy will NOT apply to:

- members advocating any duly adopted policies or positions of the union;
- members expressing their opinion (opinions shall not constitute illegal discrimination such as racial discrimination or homophobia, etc.);
- members actively opposing illegal discrimination or harassment.

Although UNDE does advocate and promote zero-tolerance for harassment in the workplace, UNDE firmly believes that harassment in the workplace is the responsibility of the employer. Members who feel that they have been harassed in the workplace have the right to file written complaints through the following avenues:

- Treasury Board Policy on the Prevention and Resolution of Harassment in the Workplace;
- DND Harassment Prevention and Resolution Guidelines;
- Grievance process; and
- Human Rights Commission.

Since it is recognized that staff is required to interact with the membership in the performance of their duties and that disputes will be inevitable, UNDE, as an employer, shall ensure that staff are provided a harassment-free work environment. The National President, as an employer, under human rights legislation and the relevant collective agreement, will deal with any allegations of harassment against staff members.

6. General

Respect for human rights must be the basis of interaction among trade unionists. The responsibility to create a harassment-free environment rests with the individual member and staff in attendance at a union function, meeting or social and with UNDE as a union and as an employer.

Any member or staff witnessing any type of harassment during union events has the responsibility to ensure that the behaviour is stopped. All members and staff have the responsibility to provide leadership in setting standards of behaviour that reflect our commitment to equality.

No member or staff will prevent the lodging of a harassment complaint nor interfere during an investigation under this policy. Anyone guilty of this may be subject to disciplinary measures under the Local bylaws, UNDE Bylaws and the PSAC Constitution.

The Union of National Defence Employees promotes a zero-tolerance policy in regard to harassment and discrimination.

The component believes and promotes full equality of all its members and the right of each member to be treated with dignity and respect.

UNDE will neither tolerate nor condone attitudes and behaviours at union events, regardless of intent, that are likely to undermine the dignity, self-esteem or security of an individual or create an intimidating, threatening, hostile or offensive environment.

If you experience harassment at this event, please contact myself ... and (the other intervener) who will assist you through the process outlined in the UNDE Harassment Policy and the Guidelines and Procedures for Managing Harassment Complaints.

In addition, UNDE recognizes that accessibility is an essential requirement for the participation of members with environmental disabilities. These include scented perfumes, colognes, lotions, hairsprays, deodorants and other products promoted by the fragrance industry.

ANNEX B

GUIDELINES AND PROCEDURES FOR MANAGING HARASSMENT COMPLAINTS

1. Guidelines

These guidelines are provided to assist members in the management of harassment complaint(s) and are built on the principles of expediency and confidentiality during the process and procedures of any initial and informal complaint(s). They provide a fair and due process for both the Complainant(s) and the Respondent(s) and are applicable to all UNDE members regardless of position held, but exclude UNDE Staff members.

At all UNDE events (meetings, socials and functions), the Intervener shall be identified and is responsible for reading aloud the UNDE statement on harassment (Annex A) and for managing any and all. The Responsible Officer shall assist the Intervener during these processes.

In the event, any initial or informal complaint(s) are dealt with, the Intervener shall complete the UNDE Harassment Event Form (Annex C Part A) and submit to the Responsible Officer.

For any initial and/or informal complaint(s), the Responsible Officer shall complete Annex C Part B and submit to the Vice-President of the Region. The Vice-President of the Region shall complete Annex F and submit same on a quarterly basis to the UNDE Standing Bylaws Committee. The Standing Bylaws Committee shall complete Annex G, present their findings to the National Executive and provide recommendations on preventative measures.

Any complaint(s) not resolved through these processes must proceed to the formal process and will be managed by the Reviewing Officer in accordance with UNDE Bylaw 13 Article 9 and Regulation 1305.01.

2. Process and Procedures

To facilitate the expedient resolution of any allegation of harassment, the Intervener is responsible to assist any member(s) to determine the process s/he wishes to use.

- (a) Initial complaint: When a member seeks the help of the Intervener, s/he must first be made aware of the available options. If the member chooses not to take any further action after discussing the incident, no detailed record shall be kept, but generic info (using no names) shall form part of the UNDE Harassment Event Report (Annex C).
- (b) Informal Complaint: if the Complainant(s) wishes to take further action, the Intervener is responsible to meet with the Respondent(s) and to advise both the Respondent(s) and the Complainant(s) of their entitlement to representation. During the meeting, the Respondent(s) shall be informed of the nature of the complaint(s) and the identity of the Complainant(s). If resolution that is acceptable to the Complainant(s) and the Respondent(s) can be reached, no detailed record shall be kept of the incident but generic info (using no names) shall form part of the UNDE Harassment Event Form (Annex C Parts A and B).

- (c) Formal Complaint: Although it is the intent to resolve any complaint before the conclusion of the event, if any complaint of harassment cannot be resolved through the initial or informal processes, the Intervener shall advise both the Complainant(s) and the Respondent(s) of their obligation to complete in writing, Annex D Parts A, B and within 30 days of the initial complaint(s). All documentation will be submitted to the Responsible Officer. The Responsible Officer will forward all documentation to the Reviewing Officer. If the required written documentation from the Complainant(s) is not received within the 30 day requirement, the Reviewing Officer will consider the allegation(s) to be abandoned.

The Reviewing Officer shall ensure that any Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) are provided copies of all written documentation including Annex D Parts A and B, as well as identify the rights of each to have representation that will be at their own cost.

The Reviewing Officer shall contact the Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) to ensure all documentation has been submitted and advise each that non participation may result in disciplinary action. If either the Complainant(s) or Respondent(s) decide to not meet their obligations under this policy, the Reviewing Officer, will determine if and what disciplinary action is required. The Reviewing Officer shall attempt mediation, if appropriate, with both parties in an attempt to resolve the issue;

The Reviewing Officer shall make an initial review of any complaint(s) to determine whether there is sufficient prima facie evidence to proceed within seven (7) days of receipt of the complaint

If the Reviewing Officer determines there is no need to establish an Investigation Committee, they will be responsible for identifying reasons of that decision to any Complainant(s), Respondent(s) and the National President.

If the Reviewing Officer determines the requirement for further investigation, they will establish an internal or external investigation committee consisting of at least 3 impartial unionized members at the Local's expense. The Reviewing Officer will provide the mandate, all written documentation to the Committee, the Complainant(s) and the Respondent(s). The Reviewing Officer shall provide procedural assistance to the Investigation Committee, the Complaint(s) and the Respondent(s). The Reviewing Officer will not take part in any investigation or decision making procedure.

If the Reviewing Officer has determined disciplinary action is required against any party for non-participation, that information will not be shared with the Investigation Committee in the event that party wishes to participate with the Investigation Committee. Consideration to said party will be given to disciplinary recommendations if they do choose to participate with the Investigation Committee.

The established Investigation Committee will be responsible to conduct a thorough investigation based upon their mandate using Annex E as a guideline. The Investigation Committee will contact the Complainant(s), the Respondent(s) and the listed witness(es) to establish timings for interviews and for receiving any further documentation. Witness(es) must complete a written statement (Annex D Part D) to be provided to the Reviewing Officer, the complainant(s) and the respondent(s). Witnesses do not get any copies of paperwork other than their own written documentation submitted on Annex D Part D.

The Investigation Committee will conduct as many meetings as necessary with the Complainant(s), the Respondent(s) and witness(es) until they can make a finding of the allegation(s) in accordance with its mandate.

Once the Investigation Committee has reached its decision, a written report comprised of two parts shall be submitted to the Reviewing Officer. Part I of the report will be the Committee's Findings and Part II of the report will be the Committee's Recommendations.

The Reviewing Officer will review and ensure the report is in order and that the Committee met its mandate. The Reviewing Officer will work with the Investigation Committee to address any discrepancies. If necessary, the Reviewing Officer will be responsible for setting up the meeting where the report will be presented. The Reviewing Officer will be responsible for providing the Complainant(s) and the Respondent(s) with copies of the Investigation Committee report. If required, the Reviewing Officer will advise the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) that they can attend the special or general membership meeting, but they will have no voice or vote while the report is being presented.

- The Reviewing Officer will be responsible to carry through on any disciplinary Recommendations adopted by submitting the Committee's Report and the minutes of meeting that the report was dealt with to the UNDE National Executive. The carried Recommendations are still subject to two-thirds majority vote to be accepted. If

If Respondent is a UNDE National Officer:

- The approving body for the Committee's Report will be the UNDE National Executive regardless of the Complainant(s) position in the Union. A National Officer is defined as UNDE Vice-President of the Region, UNDE Executive Vice-President and UNDE National President. The approving body for any complaint(s) against the UNDE Human Rights Advisor while serving in that capacity only will be the UNDE National Executive. The approving body for any complaint(s) against the UNDE Human Rights Advisor not serving in that capacity will be dealt with as a UNDE member.
- The Reviewing Officer will serve as Chair of the meeting while the Chair of the Investigation Committee will present the Report in two Parts to the National Executive. Any Complainant(s) or Respondent(s) have no voice or vote during this process but are entitled to have representation.

If Part I is adopted, the National Executive and any Representatives less Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) have the opportunity to seek clarification from the Investigation Committee Chair.

Once all clarification is provided, Part II – Recommendations shall be presented to the National Executive. Any Representatives can no longer participate in any capacity while the Complainant(s) and Respondent(s) have no voice or vote during this process. Recommendations are subject to a two-thirds majority vote and can be amended.

Any recommendations supported will be forwarded to the PSAC NBoD for final approval which will be subject to a two-thirds majority vote to carry.
