

H&S Webinar: COVID-19, Ventilation, and the Spectrum of Prevention Activities

The PSAC Prairie Region Health and Safety Committee is proud to present the next in our series of H&S related information sessions. In this interactive format, we will cover the different protections available to prevent COVID transmission in the workplace and in public and how our best approach is through using multiple layers of protection. In this webinar, we will focus particular attention towards ventilation and its impacts on the spread of the virus. We will explore topics such as air flow, HVAC systems and filtration methods.

Our special guest speaker will be John Oudyk, Occupational Hygienist, Occupational Health Clinics for Ontario Workers. John has previously provided presentations within the PSAC and other organizations, and brings a wealth of practical experience that is delivered in an engaging and relatable format.
